

Saint Mary's Catholic Church

Greenville South Carolina

from the pastor

Dear Friends in Christ,

Today in Rome Pope Francis solemnly declared that two of his predecessors now see God in the Face and may receive the veneration of all the faithful in the universal Church, and the declaration of this dogmatic fact by Pope Francis is in perfect harmony with his desire to announce the mercy of God to the ends of the earth and to shape the entire Church as a field hospital for those wounded by sin and in need of mercy. Pope Saint John XXIII and Pope Saint John Paul II are now enrolled in the Church's universal liturgical calendar (on 11 October and 22 October respectively), and all Catholics should see these two remarkable men as models of holiness and heavenly intercessors. In convoking the Second Vatican Council, John XXIII said that he wanted the Church to provide the "medicine of mercy" for our suffering world, and the theme of God's infinite mercy was a regular topic of John Paul the Great's papal magisterium. All of which highlights the importance of these canonizations taking place on this day in the liturgical calendar, a day which has three names: 1) the Octave Day of Easter, 2) the Second Sunday of Easter, and 3) Divine Mercy Sunday.

The number eight has special meaning in the sacred liturgy because it is a symbol of the new creation. The drama of creation unfolded over seven symbolic days, and the eighth day is the sign of God's pluperfect love revealed in the new creation. This is foreshadowed in the Old Covenant through circumcision taking place eight days after birth and is confirmed by the Resurrection taking place on Sunday, both the first day of the week and the eighth day. Accordingly, in the liturgical calendar the eight days from Easter Sunday until today are kept as one festive celebration of the Resurrection, and today completes the eighth day or Octave of Easter.

Moreover, because the Gospel appointed for today speaks of the divine power to forgive sins which the Lord Jesus gave to his Apostles when he first appeared to them after his Resurrection, the emphasis of the liturgy today is on the great mercy of God. Modern devotion to the Lord Jesus as the embodiment of Divine Mercy is connected to the spirituality of St. Faustina, a Polish mystic and religious Sister who was canonized by John Paul the Great in 2000 as the first saint of the new millennium. John Paul died on the eve of Divine Mercy Sunday in 2005 and was beatified on Divine Mercy Sunday in 2011, and it was Pope John Paul who decreed that the Second Sunday of Easter would be kept each year as Divine Mercy Sunday.

Two parishes in town are hosting special events today in observance of Divine Mercy Sunday and the canonizations. Both St. Rafka and Our Lady of the Rosary have devotions beginning at 3 pm, and details are in the e-bulletin. Pope Saint John XXIII and Pope Saint John Paul II, pray for us.

Father Newman

Homily of His Holiness Pope Francis from the Easter Vigil on 19 April 2014

THE GOSPEL of the resurrection of Jesus Christ begins with the journey of the women to the tomb at dawn on the day after the Sabbath. They go to the tomb to honour the body of the Lord, but they find it open and empty. A mighty angel says to them: “Do not be afraid!” (Mt 28.5) and orders them to go and tell the disciples: “He has been raised from the dead, and indeed he is going ahead of you to Galilee” (v. 7). The women quickly depart and on the way Jesus himself meets them and says: “Do not fear; go and tell my brothers to go to Galilee; there they will see me” (v. 10).

After the death of the Master, the disciples had scattered; their faith had been utterly shaken, everything seemed over, all their certainties had crumbled and their hopes had died. But now that message of the women, incredible as it was, came to them like a ray of light in the darkness. The news spread: Jesus is risen as he said. And then there was his command to go to Galilee; the women had heard it twice, first from the angel and then from Jesus himself: “Let them go to Galilee; there they will see me”.

Galilee is the place where they were first called, where everything began! To return there, to return to the place where they were originally called. Jesus had walked along the shores of the lake as the fishermen were casting their nets. He had called them, and they left everything and followed him (cf. Mt 4.18-22).

To return to Galilee means to re-read everything on the basis of the cross and its victory, fearlessly: “do not be afraid”. To re-read everything – Jesus’ preaching, his miracles, the new community, the excitement and the defections, even the betrayal – to re-read everything starting from the end, which is a new beginning, from this supreme act of love.

For each of us, too, there is a “Galilee at the origin of our journey with Jesus. “To go to Galilee” means something beautiful, it means rediscovering our baptism as a living fountainhead, drawing new energy from the sources of our faith and our Christian experience. To return to Galilee means above all to return to that blazing light with which God’s grace touched me at the start of the journey. From that flame I can light a fire for today and every day, and bring heat and light to my brothers and sisters. That flame ignites a humble joy, a joy which sorrow and distress cannot dismay, a good, gentle joy.

In the life of every Christian, after baptism there is also another “Galilee”, a more existential “Galilee”: the experience of a personal encounter with Jesus Christ who called me to follow him and to share in his mission. In this sense, returning to Galilee means treasuring in my heart the living memory of that call, when Jesus passed my way, gazed at me with mercy and asked me to follow him. To return there means reviving the memory of that moment when his eyes met mine, the moment when he made me realize that he loved me.

Today, tonight, each of us can ask: What is my Galilee? I need to remind myself, to go back and remember. Where is my Galilee? Do I remember it? Have I forgotten it? Seek and you will find it! There the Lord is waiting for you. Have I gone off on roads and paths which made me forget it? Lord, help me: tell me what my Galilee is; for you know that I want to return there to encounter you and to let myself be embraced by your mercy. Do not be afraid, do not fear, return to Galilee!

The Gospel of is very clear: we need to go back there, to see Jesus risen, and to become witnesses of his resurrection. This is not to go back in time; it is not a kind of nostalgia. It is returning to our first love, in order to receive the fire which Jesus has kindled in the world and to bring that fire to all people, to the very ends of the earth. Go back to Galilee, without fear!

“Galilee of the Gentiles” (Mt 4.15; Is 8.23)! Horizon of the Risen Lord, horizon of the Church; intense desire of encounter... Let us be on our way!

“ To return to Galilee means to re-read everything on the basis of the cross and its victory. ”

Forming Your Catholic Worldview

The World of Difference it Makes

Event Location:
St. Mary's Catholic Church
Downtown Greenville
McGrady Hall
(the church undercroft)

Thursdays
1,8 May
@ 6.30 pm

All people view the world and judge and interpret reality through a particular lens. Most often this is unconscious - few people consciously examine their lives at the most basic level to arrive at their worldview. However, ignorance really is not bliss, because after all, "the unexamined is not worth living." Join us for a 3 week study of worldview, where we learn to examine our worldview, and be intentional in its formation. The question is not, "Do I have a worldview"; but "Which worldview do I have, and is it the one I ought to have?"
